

We don't see a car loan,
we see a safe place
for a new passenger.
We see banking differently.

Whoever said "all you need is love" wasn't talking about parenting. Love may be free, but many parts of parenting come with a price tag. From car seats to strollers, from organized sports to post-secondary school, raising a child is expensive. At Vision, we've got your back with financing/financial products to help parents through every age and stage.

Investing for post-secondary studies

It might seem crazy to think about your child's post-secondary studies so soon, but when it comes to RESP investments, the sooner the better. By planning ahead and contributing regularly — even very small amounts — a RESP can add up pretty quickly. Plus, the earlier you start, the more government grants and bonds you'll be eligible to receive.

Registered Education Savings Plans (RESPs)

A RESP is one of the most effective ways to save for a child's education. Your RESP contributions become tax sheltered earnings and they can help you qualify for up to $9,200 in matching contributions from government grants. A RESP can be used for tuition, books, living expenses and more.

- Canada Education Savings Grant (CESG)
Each year, the federal government will match your RESP contribution by 20%, up to a maximum of $500 for each child. You need to contribute $2,500 a year to get the full grant of $500 each year. Your child can carry forward unused grant contribution room until they turn 17.
  - Lifetime limit, per child: $7200
  - Available to: parents/legal guardians

- Canada Learning Bond (CLB)
The CLB will contribute $500 for your child at birth and an extra $25 to cover the costs of opening a RESP, and $100 for each year your family gets the National Child Benefit until your child turns 15.
  - Lifetime limit, per child: $2000
  - Eligibility: based on the number of children in the family and household income. Parents with three children or fewer whose family income was less than $49,020 in 2020 are eligible for the Canada Child Tax Benefit. For families with more children, that income threshold is higher per child. You must open a RESP for your child to qualify.
